

ABSTRACT

The present invention is a vocabulary building method that utilizes a vocabulary building exercise that converts common phrases, names, titles, or words into complex and generally not commonly known words (sesquipedalian). By use of definitional clues, the student attempts to determine the meaning of the common phrase, name, title or word thus increasing the student's vocabulary.